

Pharmacy Forum

April 9, 2021

E-Prescribing in Action

Bhavesh Modi, RPh, MPharm

Bhavesh Modi is the Director of Pharmacy Relations and Deployment for Canada Health Infoway, PrescribelT®. He earned his Master of Sciences in Pharmacy in 2013. Since then, he has worked with several organizations on their pharmacy transformation journey by leveraging technologies and innovation to further advance the pharmacy profession. As a practicing pharmacist, Bhavesh has been able to implement key strategic digital health initiatives, while growing the pharmacy business within the expanded scope of practice.

Bhavesh's primary focus at PrescribelT® is engaging with pharmacy stakeholders and leading the pharmacy implementation process of the e-prescribing solution all across Canada.

Dr. Daniel Pepe

Dr. Daniel Pepe is a family physician at the London Lambeth Medical Clinic in London, Ontario. In addition to primary care, he practices surgical assisting, palliative care and inpatient care. Recently, he joined the Western Ontario Health Team as the Primary Care Co-Chair of the Digital Health Working Group. Accomplishments in his career include Resident Teaching Awards, the OMA Resident Achievement Award, and the CFPC patient education grant.

With patient care as his primary driver, Dr. Pepe is constantly searching for ways to improve his practice. He recognizes that the healthcare system has many challenges and is a strong advocate for a digital-first approach to care in order to advance the field. This is demonstrated in his current work as the digital pandemic lead in Southwest Ontario, where he is supporting residents and healthcare providers as they rapidly integrate more digital solutions into their practice.

Andy Donald

Andy Donald is a pharmacist and certified geriatric pharmacist. He practices at the Health Depot Pharmacy in London, Ontario, where he is the CEO and owner. On top of his BScPhm and RPh, Andy holds a BPHED, a BScH in Life Science and an MSc Cellular Biology and Anatomy.

Patient care has always been Andy's number one priority. As a student, he founded SOAPE (Students for Optimizing and Advocating Pharmacy Endeavours) in an effort to unify the profession and advocate for increasing the roles pharmacists play in patient care. He continued this advocacy as a member of the Ontario Pharmacists Association membership committee from 2017 to 2018. After nearly a decade in the field, Andy has observed that the best outcomes for patients are achieved when pharmacists have the opportunity to go beyond the role of "pill checker" they so often fall into. The profession deserves a revolution, and Andy believes this change will largely come from adopting new and innovative technology.

Kyro Maseh

Kyro Maseh is a pharmacist and owner of the Lawlor Pharmasave in the Toronto Beaches, Ontario. Founder of #EndTheCrisis, a movement that aims to have pharmacists provide education to parents and students on mental health and addiction, Kyro frequently speaks to youth about addiction awareness and mental health tips.

In 2019, Kyro received the Community Achievement Award from the Canadian Mental Health Association.